

Giovanni Bellini

Linkedin.com/in/Giovanbib • Bellini987@Yahoo.com • 717-098-2345

Education

Bachelor of Science Economics, East Carolina University

April 2013

Major GPA: 3.53 / Cumulative GPA: 3.44

- Received 1-year academic scholarships for academic achievement
- Member, Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society

Related Coursework

Econometrics: Focused on correlation, establishing causality, and making projections

Advanced Statistics: Learned calculus-based statistics and improved math base for econometrics

Price Theory: Modeled and analyzed life situations to predict and understand outcomes using microeconomics

Communications: Developed greater understanding of business communication Analysis and Research

Research

- Researched established goodness-of-fit methods, and devised own innovative and intuitive method to fit probability density functions (pdfs) to raw data, and compared final results.
- Analyzed impact of relevant real-estate variables on housing prices using stochastic modeling tools (STATA/SAS)
- Designed intensive SAS program to synthesize and calculate academic reports for thousands of ECU students in accordance with stringent ECU grade-calculation policies
- Standardized flawed data regarding consumption of fruits and vegetables among children for research publication

Work Ethic

- Efficiently managed working 20 hours per week with 15+ credits while maintaining overall 3.44 cumulative GPA
- Served full-time, volunteer service mission in poverty-stricken areas of Brazil for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (August 2010 – February 2012)

Communication

- Led group of 11 representatives and trained them to better connect with and effectively teach those in community
- Enhanced emotional intelligence while tutoring variety of students on principles of economics and statistics (beginning to advanced), tailoring teaching style to each individual with unique understanding, skills, and personality

Languages

- English, native proficiency (reading, writing, and speaking)
- Italian, native proficiency (reading, writing, and speaking)
- Portuguese, advanced proficiency (reading, writing, and speaking)